A walk around Richmond's downtown will show you some of the incredible mural projects that have taken place. It's no wonder the city was rated "Most Artistic Mid-Sized City in America" in a Gogobot study.
Richmond was ranked 4th overall among the “Top 10 Mid-Sized American Cities of the Future” by fDi Magazine.

“Living in Richmond with my partner has provided us lots of things to do that suit both of our interests... multiple burger restaurants, grocery stores, bowling, comic book stores, and movies all within a 15 minute walk of our apartment! It’s been enjoyable to constantly find new things in a city that is always growing and changing.”

-Nick Sydow, Hall Director

Richmond is one of the “most content areas” in America, according to the U.S. National Bureau of Economic Research.
National Geographic notes Richmond as a "top destination" for food travel. And it seems like restaurants continue to keep popping up in every corner of the city.

Wall Street Journal said Richmond "is home to one of the region's fastest growing beer scenes" with more than 30 breweries and more on the way.
As a member of the LGBTQIA+ community I really value how progressive and inclusive Richmond is! It’s so easy to get involved in the city through LGBTQIA+ social sports, nightlife, and community service."

- David Draper, Hall Director

Outside Magazine listed Richmond as "the best town ever." There’s just no arguing with that.
